

Mara House is a small, fairly simple private house at the foot of Kipileo Hill in the Olchorro Losoit valley, within the Lemek hills, far from the tourist trail and within the 70,000 acre Mara North Conservancy area (one of the community conservation areas) just north of the Masai Mara Game Reserve.

Mara House bush Lodge is located in a secluded valley in the north of the Masai Mara Northern Conservancy, at an altitude of 6,200 feet. Mara House bush lodge is a three bedroom private bush home is once again designed to suit a couple, small group or family on safari. Designed to reflect the success of both Topi and Acacia bush Home houses, all the main living areas is placed at the front. www.crocodileracers.com

These lead onto the verandah so all can enjoy the wonderful views down to the game rich waterhole. It is here and at the nearby pool (shared with Acacia House) that much of the day is passed when not out and exploring.

The three double rooms are all en-suite and spacious living areas mean the group staying here has plenty of indoor as well as outdoor space. Your private team will prepare all meals to the usual high standard and will cater for bush picnics or lunches out on the lawn under the shade of the acacia trees.

Mara House comes with a full complement of well-trained and experienced staff at guests disposal including a chef, wildlife guide and house manager to ensure a seamlessly-run safari experience which delivers the very best the Mara has to offer. It is an opportunity to explore this wilderness from a private bush home in the company of your personal Masai guide on your own terms.

Mara House provides a fully qualified guide and vehicle will be on hand to assist with a wide range of safari activities which include walking, day or night game drives and visits to local villages and trading centres. Game viewing is done both in Masai Mara Game Reserve and in the conservancy and so offering a wide range of Safari experiences.
