

Fairmont Mara Safari Club lies in the north west of the Maasai Mara, at the foot of the Aitong Hills in the Ol-Choro Oiroua Conservation Area that borders the Maasai Mara National Reserve. The camp is positioned on an ox-bow of the Mara River, so that all en-suite tents have a view of the hippo-filled river. The lodge is surrounded by well-cultivated gardens dotted among indigenous trees.

Mara Safari Club has 50 tents each superbly furnished with its own private, three-piece bathroom, including a number of "outdoor showers" in selected tents. The larger-sized accommodations also feature expanded decks which allow for private dining

Food www.crocodileracers.com

The menu is a cosmopolitan combination of European, African and Asian dishes, made from the abundance of fresh Kenyan produce. Both breakfast and lunch are served buffet-style, while dinner is Table D'Hôte, with a choice of main course.

Guides

Game drives are accompanied by experienced 'driver-naturalists' and are on 4WD Land cruisers

Facilities

- An indoor restaurant
- A bar
- A library with Internet access
- A spacious outside deck that overhangs the river
- A heated pool, complete with bar and private massage tents.

Activities

- Game drives.
- Hot air balloon safaris.